

What is Physical Trading?

Physical trading involves the buying and selling of commodities that are delivered physically from producers to processors or consumers. Such commodities could be blended, stored, or refined to meet specific customer needs which opens up the chance to maximize profit.

It can sometimes employ derivatives like futures and options to hedge which makes it possible to speculate on the price movements of commodities. The major goal, however, is to profit from differences in prices (across different locations) or the quality of products.

Modules

1. Buy Fixing

The future of bullion trading, with the success of VertexFX Bullion Solution, Hybrid Solutions have recently launched the new immersive bullion trading module that is built according to the market needs, to enhance the bullion trading experience.

Buy Fixing allows traders to fix the price of the commodity into one or multiple different items and shapes. And while the fixed price for the commodity is not subject to market movements, the client can store the fixed price order or request for redemption at anytime.

2. Buy Only

Like Buy Fixing, VertexFX Buy Only allows the trader to buy the commodity and hold the order conditioned by the market movement. Traders will still have the option to redeem or choose to sell back the holdings to the bullion dealer at current market price to book profit or cash back investment.

And because we understand that the investment opportunities cannot wait, Buy Fixing, Buy Only, and redemption are available on all VertexFX terminals on Windows, iOS, and Android.

VertexFX Bullion Trading

Hybrid Solutions has endeavored to set up a Bullion Market through the VertexFX platform to simplify bullion trading. VertexFX trading platform is considered one of the best bullion trading platforms that enables traders to perform regular trading journey along-side physical redemption. The simplified physical trading is commonly used on precious metals such as Gold, Silver, Platinum, and Palladium.

It identifies problems encountered by different investors so that an effective solution can be provided and invariably contribute to the growth of the physical redemption volume in addition to promoting and saving.
